SPORTING RECORD

ANGELS BANG MR. BUTLER.

Eleven to Two the Way it Stands at the End.

Portlanders Made Their Only Runs in the First.

Sacramento Gets One Run to Oakland's None in Fourteen Innings—Racing.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTLAND (Or.) April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. Butler's Angels tightened up a bit today, and in addition to the assistance received by six Portland errors, they batted Butler for fourteen hits, and wound up the game with a score of 11 to 2 in their favor. Hall, who was on the rubber for the visitors, pitched a good game, holding down the hits and scattering the nine he did allow, while his support was of the best, but two errors being taken against the team.

From the Portland end, however, it was a poor game. Nadeau played short, and Zinsner was sent to the field, but the change did not help matters to any extent, for the fumbles were made the same as at first, Anderson, Andrews, Nadeau and Shaffer being prominent in the misplays. The Browns made their only scores in the first inning, on a free ticket, Nadeau's single, J. Smith's error and a long fly by Andrews. Then, for three innings, they put up a gilt-edge game. Their downfall started in the fourth. Smith, Dillon and Cravath singled and a wild throw by Pitcher Butler high over first completed the agony. Hall made the last of the four runs with a two-bagger.

It was the same story again in the sixth, when the Angels secured four hits and three runs. In the first half of the ninth, with two Angels out, the Browns made three fumbles, hand-running, and two more runs were scored. Portland fans are betting that the Browns will not take one of the series. The score is:

WASHINGTON.

MACHEN MUST RESIGN OR BE THROWN OUT.

HAS BEEN PERNICIOUSLY ACTIVE IN OHIO POLITICS.

Construction of Various Buildings at Army Posts Recommended by the War College Board—Supreme Court Decides It Cannot Grant Relief to Alabama Negroes Deprived of Suffrage.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A high official of the Post-office Department is authority for the statement that unless Superintendent of Free Delivery Machen resigns from the President's cabinet, the President will remove him. It is stated that Postmaster-General Payne has been convinced by the results of his investigation of Machen's record that the good of the service demands Machen's dismissal.

No serious misconduct in office, so far as can be learned, has been proved against Machen, but there are a number of incidents in connection with his political activity in Ohio which are said to be of such a character that the President could not overlook them and be consistent.

COAL AND ASPHALT LANDS.

SEGREGATED BY AN EXPERT. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, April 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The selection of coal and asphalt lands in the Choctaw and Chickasaw Nations, Indian Territory for segregation and sale was completed, and report was submitted March 30. This segregation was made under direction of the commission to the five civilized tribes, by order of the Secretary of the Interior and Joseph A. Taff of the United States Geological Survey was assigned to make the selection.

With three assistants, Taff began work December 1, 1902, and during the progress of the survey traced out the crop of coal beds as accurately as possible through several thousand square miles of coal-bearing rocks. Ten coal beds were found to be of economic value, and were located for segregation. The coal in the lands selected ranged in quality from that of high-grade bituminous coals to medium-grade bituminous coals that do not coke successfully.

The asphalt lands selected contain asphalt of two general classes. To the larger of these classes belong bituminous and semi-liquid deposits which are found permeating limestones and porous sandstones. The second class of asphalt is solid, has the general appearance of highly-bituminous coal and it is usually clear of earthy or stony impurities.

CASSINI AND HAY.

TALK OVER MANCHURIA. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) WASHINGTON, April 30.—Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador called at the State Department today, and had a long interview with Secretary Hay, and the whole Manchurian matter in understood to have been fully and frankly discussed. The discussion throughout was of the most amicable and satisfactory character. Mr. Takahira, called late, and he also discussed Manchuria. The Japanese are finding much comfort in Ambassador McCook's dispatch from St. Petersburg conveying Russia's disclaimer of improper purposes as to Manchuria.

CHINESE MOB.

ATTACKED AMERICANS. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) WASHINGTON, April 30.—The State Department has received a cablegram from United States Consul-General McWade at Canton, dated yesterday, stating that a mob of anti-foreign Chinese made an attack at Yuan Tai on North River, 140 miles from Canton, upon a party of American engineers. The Consul appealed to Lieut. Anderson, commanding the American gunboat Callao, and the officer went immediately to the rescue. The Consul-General then lodged a formal complaint with the Chinese officials.

The attack is not believed associated with the Boxer movement. It is conjectured that the engineers, in course of railroad construction or similar work, had run counter to some intense Chinese superstition by invading a graveyard or in some way committing a sacrilege.

NO HOPE FROM COURTS.

NEGRO SUFFRAGE IS POLITICAL. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) WASHINGTON, April 30.—The opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Jackson Giles of Montgomery county, Alabama, vs. the Board of Registration of that county, which was delivered by Justice Holmes last Monday, was made public today. The opinion says that Giles, a negro male adult, on behalf of himself and five thousand others similarly situated, sought by bills in equity to secure registration, as voters of Montgomery county, which had been refused and thus that the validity of the suffrage provisions of the new Constitution of Alabama.

done, as alleged, by the people of the State and the State itself, must be given by them by the legislative and political department of the government of the United States.

Barge to be Umpire. WASHINGTON, April 30.—Queen Wilhelmina has notified the United States government that she appoints Dr. Charles Augustus Henri Barge to act as umpire in the arbitration between the United States and Venezuela at Caracas of American claims. Dr. Barge formerly was the Dutch Governor of Curacao.

JURY HOLDS HULSE RESPONSIBLE.

INQUEST OVER VICTIMS OF THE BAKERSFIELD TRAGEDY.

Verdict Reached that Bullets from McKinney's Accomplice Killed Officers Packard and Tibbet—Prisoner Not Disturbed by the Verdict.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BAKERSFIELD, April 30.—By its verdict rendered at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon, the coroner's jury held Al Hulse responsible for the murder of officers Packard and Tibbet in the battle at the Jess house where outlaw Jim McKinney lost his life. Hulse was not present when the verdict was rendered, having declined to appear at the afternoon session, but he read the account in the papers in his cell afterwards, and declared he had nothing to say and did not seem disturbed by the verdict.

Hulse was present at the morning session and was brought into court handcuffed and guarded by Sheriff Baker. He occupied a seat just outside the railing and placed his hat carefully over his eyes to conceal the bracelet. Jennie Fox was also brought to court under guard of Deputy Sheriff Tower. The hall was packed with witnesses and interested spectators. There was no demonstration when the prisoner entered.

Sheriff Kelly was the first witness and told of the organization of the posse of ten men and the surrounding of the Jess house. City Marshal Packard, he said, brought the first information of the presence of the outlaw in the city, and he and Tibbet volunteered to enter the yard and locate the outlaw, while the others guarded the various entrances according to a plan outlined by Sheriff Baker. The Sheriff was on watch at the front of the building.

It seemed about fifteen minutes before the shooting began and there were about seven or eight shots fired. Attracted by the shooting the Sheriff ran to the rear of the building and at the window he saw the top of the outlaw's head and raised his gun to fire, when Burt Tibbet fired from the rear door and the outlaw fell dead.

When the Sheriff entered the yard Tibbet fell dying on the ground and Packard was standing in the corner wounded.

"Did not I surrender to you?" asked Hulse.

"You did," replied the Sheriff.

"Did I make any resistance?"

"Further questioning by Deputy District Attorney Flournoy and jurors brought out the fact that the prisoner had a knife and a pistol.

City Marshal Bert M. Tibbet, the slayer of Outlaw McKinney, was the second witness. He was in the alley when the first shots were fired and ran into the back yard. He said: "McKinney was in the door. Packard pointed him out to me. He put his head out and I fired. He fell, his gun also fell to the floor. I heard him walk to the kitchen window and back. His whole body appeared at the door and I fired and killed him."

"My brother was lying on the ground and I asked him Who shot you?" and he answered "Hulse."

Hulse asked several questions of the witness, but failed to bring out anything new.

Deputy Sheriff Tower and Deputy Marshal Eiler related the circumstances of the shooting, and the former said that both Packard and Tibbet spoke of Hulse as the one who did the shooting.

Jennie Fox, Hulse's consort, was then examined. She was at Hulse's room at the Jess house the morning of the shooting.

YOU KNOW

That California climate won't make a business grow by itself. Do men get Silverwood to make their suits just "because" — isn't a reason behind it? Take yourself. If you've been paying for ready made clothes why not pay $25 and have your suit fitted and cut by the best cutter in Los Angeles—at Silverwood's?

If some tailor had asked you $65 for a silk-lined suit, why not pay $45 and get the same thing—at Silverwood's?

See tomorrow—we've not said the half. These different suits— you notice them on smart dressers—came from Silverwood's.

The shooting and had been smoking opium. She was in the room at the time of the shooting, and declared that Hulse, McKinney and a third man whom she did not know, were present. She could not say positively whether Hulse did any shooting or not, as she was too excited, but he had his own rifle, the 25-35, with which Tibbet was killed, and she identified it in court.

McKinney had been at the house several days, the witness said, eating his meals there, but going out at night sometimes. His brother, Jake, John Caldwell, and Fritz Stumpf, visited him.

The entire afternoon was given to the medical testimony. Drs. Kellogg, Smith, Taggart and Schaffer, who attended the deceased officers and held the autopsies, testified to the nature of the wounds causing death. The substance of their testimony was that the officers were killed by Hulse's rifle.

WHITTIER CLUB WOMEN.

Wednesday afternoon of this week Whittier club women to the number of nearly 200 enjoyed a delightful afternoon at the club rooms in the Masonic building. The occasion was a reception tendered by the executive board of the Women's Club to the club members, and other guests. The ladies receiving included the president, Mrs. Thomas S. Newell; the second vice-president, Mrs. L. H. Pennington; and the treasurer, Mrs. William V. Coffin. These ladies were assisted by Misses G. C. McElroy, A. C. Clark, Will S. Fawcett and W. A. Swain, while Mrs. Walter F. Morse and Mrs. G. Walter Monroe presided over big punch bowls filled with delicious strawberry punch and flanked by plates of dainty refreshments. Help For the Drunkard...

Good advice will not cure alcoholism any more than it will cure heart disease. There is only one effective way to cure a drunkard, and that is, treat him for the disease which is undermining his mental, moral and physical condition. If you have a friend or relative who really needs your help,

Bring Him To Our Office.

Let him see with his own eyes the hundreds of letters from those who have been cured.

He will learn that he can be cured in a few days—he will learn that this treatment does not involve the use of the dangerous hypodermic injection or deadly drugs—he will learn that no time need be lost from business—he will learn that in a few hours he will eat better, sleep better and feel better generally than he has felt in years.

The Story of La Victoria Fight.

A FIVE DAYS' STRUGGLE.

SEN. CASTRO TELLS STORY OF DECISIVE CONFLICT WITH INSURGENTS—TIMELY ARRIVAL OF FRESH SUPPLY OF AMMUNITION—CASTRO LED THE FINAL CHARGE.

By His Excellency, General Cipriano Castro.

(President of the United States of Venezuela.) (Continued from last Friday's Times.)

THE revolutionists outnumbered our troops by more than three to one. Unfortunately, we were rather short of cartridges. They held the better position, and could easily have surrounded our small force with a few well-posted bodies of men and held us in check while their main body marched on and captured Caracas without opposition. La Victoria may be called the key to the capital. It is a pretty town, nestling at the foot of a range of high mountains which slope gently to their summits amidst beautiful stretches of pasture land and plantations of yams, bananas and other tropical products. It was upon these mountains that the battle was fought.

RIFLE FIRE AT LONG RANGE.
We had a good position on one line of mountains; they held a better position on another. For five long days and nights the battle swung to and fro with varying success. Sometimes our artillery would drive them from a ridge where they had commended us with a flanking rifle fire; sometimes they would drive back a party of our men who take by a charge in face of the cool courage of our men.

As the day wore on I grew exceedingly anxious about our supply of cartridges, which I knew was getting low. I thought the enemy must be running short, also, but was not aware that they were as badly off as the event proved.

SHORT OF CARTRIDGES.
I had sent message after message to Caracas, calling urgently for a fresh supply, but there was a long and irritating though apparently unavoidable delay in sending them. Hour after hour realizing our serious position, I prayed that either the cartridges or darkness would come.

The enemy had a large section of the railroad over which the train from Caracas carrying the cartridges would have to pass, and I naturally feared they would destroy the train. That one would imagine, would be the first thing to suggest itself to a military commander under the circumstances, and I made the best plans I could to assist the train to get through by a desperate attack.

Looking back, it seems incredible, but it is the fact that they let that train pass through to us without firing a shot. They never tried to stop it in any way, though they could easily have done so. Why they neglected such an obvious stroke I cannot say; I can only suppose that somebody blundered or failed to execute an order, or that two officers each thought the other was going to do the obvious thing.

SUPPLY AT CRISIS.
Anyhow, we got an ample supply of cartridges just at the moment we most needed them. How joyfully our men unloaded the trucks and passed the ammunition down the firing line. Their spirits rose in a moment, all their hardships were forgotten, their peril

He filled the position of State Senator for four years, and also served four years as State Auditor of Ohio. During the Civil War he served as a captain in the Ninety-eighth Ohio Volunteer Infantry; was a member of the Loyal Legion, and an active worker in G. A. R. circles. He is spoken of by his friends as having been a man of large intelligence, interested in affairs of church as well as of state; a man fond of his home and admired by all who came in contact with him.

REMARKABLE RUNAWAY.

Horse Dashes Into Broadway Department Store and Creates Small Panic, but Causes no Damage.

Among the counter rushes at the Broadway Department Store yesterday morning was the unfamiliar figure of a horse, a large, fine bay. He caused a panic among customers and shop girls, and had everything his own way.

The animal, which was driven by C. E. Martin of the Los Angeles Lighting Company, broke from the buggy at Fourth and Spring streets and dashed, with the harness lashing about him, to Broadway. A clear path was made for the runaway. Instead of keeping tried to creep round on their flank or to dash up the mountain side straight at their entrenchments. All day long, and day after day, the two armies kept up a long-range fire at one another's positions, varied by occasional charges and attempts at night surprises. Day after day the fighting was indecisive, though on the whole, it went against us.

M. LAVENTHAL, 145-147 NORTH SPRING STREET

Words fail me to describe the hardships our troops underwent. The strain of fierce fighting so long continued was in itself bad enough, but the terrible heat of the tropical sun, to which they lay exposed all day long, the rain which fell in torrents now and then, flooding the camps and the trenches, the difficulty of supplying the men with water and food regularly over the immense stretch of our firing line, the groans of the wounded and the shrieks of the dying—all these combined to make up a condition of horror which is more easily imagined than described. Unfortunately our medical service and hospital arrangements were not very good, as judged by the modern standards of European armies—though, of course, they were the best we could provide.

The field of battle was spread over such a wide extent of country that many of the wounded lay on the ground for days before they were found and carried off. The heat was inevitable under the circumstances, and I find it impossible to blame anybody.

MISSIONARY RESCUED WOUNDED.
An American missionary named Mr. Finson, stationed at La Victoria, did very brave and noble work in finding the wounded of both sides and caring for them in a hospital which he established in the town. He proved himself a most fearless man. Indeed, I should be inclined to call him the bravest man I ever knew. By day and night he wandered about the battlefield between the two armies, ministering to the wounded and conveying them to the hospital. Nothing seemed to daunt him. His skill and kindness in tending the wounded were just as great as his courage in rescuing them. Would there had been more men like him during those terrible five days.

BLUNDERS OF THE ENEMY.
On the fifth day of the fight our position seemed to be desperate. The weight of numbers told against us, and from the superior positions which they had gained the enemy endeavored us with a falling fire, and made it very difficult for us to hold our entrenchments. But for the incapacity in tending the wounded on the other side and their inexplicable inability to make the best of their chances, we should have been much better off. I was constantly afraid that the enemy would hold us in our place by small bodies of well-posted troops and make a flanking march to Caracas. That is what they should have done, from a strategic standpoint, but they never seemed to think of it. They expended vast ammunition more or less uselessly against our entrenchments, and made many vain frontal attacks on positions which it was hopeless to attempt to seemed nothing, and they talked of victory as already theirs.

Encouraged by such a fine spirit on the part of my gallant troops, and tired of the indecisive fighting which had lasted for days, enraged, too, at the loss of some of my best friends and officers, who had fallen wounded or dead in the protracted fighting, I determined to try to end the battle by a bold stroke. In my military career I have always found that it pays to take the bold course—even the course which seems reckless to timid souls. In warfare boldness is the truest wisdom.

CASTRO IN FINAL CHARGE.

I gathered the pick of my troops round me, among them most of my trusty Andino officers—men who had been among the sixty who followed my fortunes from the first, when they appeared most desperate—and, together we charged up the mountain side at the main position held by the enemy. It was a desperate venture and despite the protests of some of my officers I led the charge. The fate of our cause hung in the issue of the next few minutes' fighting, and I did not greatly care to survive if we were beaten. As a general rule, I would admit that the president of a nation and the commander of an army has no right to risk his life like a private soldier, but the circumstances in this case were exceptional, and I think I was justified.

I caught up a Mauser rifle and led my gallant men up the slope to the entrenchments of the enemy. It was a wild dash at our utmost speed, and the position was won with little loss. Most of the enemy fled, and only a mere handful remained behind, resisting to the last.

This was practically the end of the battle, and with our victory the revolution, as a powerful movement, collapsed. It still lingers in the form of brigandage and guerrilla outbreaks, but these are being stamped out rapidly by a new era of peace and prosperity for our sorely tried country.

Wiping away the blood that trickled from a cut in his forehead, the dethroned one replied:

"A little, sir, but not enough to overcome the joy I experienced in the change in my condition."

"Joy?" wonderingly echoed the would-be samaritan.

"Yes," smilingly answered the peasant: "I wounded that animal's heart."

POLITICAL COMBINE OF SPOILSMEN.

'Frisco Marked for Delivery
to Corporations.

Republican Harmony Bodes Ill
to Public Interests.

Democratic Machine Also to be Controlled—Harriman's Revenge on Huntington.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES
SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—As never before in the political history of San Francisco there is a getting-together on the part of the spoilsmen.
Evidently there is to be something done in the near future, if surface indications are to be taken as any indication. From all appearances there is to be a general attack all along the line on the part of the public utility corporations. The Southern Pacific, as represented by W. F. Herrin, the United Railroads, Gas and Electric combinations and waterworks are all working in such harmony as to make the humble private citizen have cause for fear.

Much speculation has been indulged over the recent combination of the antagonistic Republican forces. The formation of the United Republican League, which takes in all of the various diverse interests except those under the domination of Burns and Kelly, has been heralded forth as a union of all the factions for the purpose of harmony and for the good of the party. The looks were bright, but the wise ones say harmony in this instance means that some strong force is back of this unification of interests. It is not a far look on the trail to see the tracks of Herrin and to recognize the marks of his fine
Italian hand.

In the United Republican League is combined the United Republicans, with Henry Ach and Tom Flordan as the head and front of what was formerly known as the "county committee wing"
of the party; the Primary League, of which A. Reut was the prime mover;
the Republican Mutual Alliance, formerly Kelly's machine, but now following Dr. McNutt into the new fold;
the Herrin interest, represented by John Lynch, Internal Revenue Collector, and incidentally by Reut, who always poses as a reformer, but who,
on the side, is always known to be a
"good Indian" when the corporations are after anything.

BETRAYAL OF McNUTT.

Just why the Mutual Alliance people, who have always been known as the malcontents and corrupt spoilsmen of the party, entered into the new combination is a story of itself. Old Dr.
McNutt has been afflicted with a desire for office for, lo, these many years, and as the years have swiftly passed by, the Doctor's itch for place has become chronic. Now it is a well-known fact that Martin Kelly, who discerns the signs of official bug in man as far as anyone, and it is also well known that Kelly has never failed to convince the afflicted one that he possesses the panacea which is an infallible cure for the disease. Kelly saw the symptoms in Dr. McNutt long ago and was not slow in convincing the doctor that it would be an easy matter to so stack the cards as to make McNutt a sure winner at any old thing he might go in for. McNutt took the bait with the avidity of a hungry gudgeon, and listened to the song of the siren until he had separated himself from $500 in good hard cash, which found its way into the pocket of Kelly, whose only return was the unfulfilled promise that McNutt should receive the nomination for Governor at the convention last year. The convention was held all right, but there was a hitch in the machinery when it came to a showdown on the Burns and Kelly end of it. McNutt's name did not even receive honorable mention, then came the usual recominations, to which Kelly has long been accustomed, and which ended in Mc-Nutt and his friends breaking away from the alliance and heading for themselves until the formation of the new coalition.

MEN AND NEWSPAPERS.

It is claimed by those who are forwarding the interests of the new combination that the two daily newspapers morning dailies are in on the deal, and it is pointed out by those eager to convince the doubting Thomases that Rich is there to represent the Chronicle
because it is a well known fact that Rich handles the Chronicle's real estate deals. For as flimsy a reason it is claimed that Spreckels is involved with both Spreckels and Sam Leake. The Schmits end of the combination is to be found in his brother, Frank, who is one of the directors of the new league. Frank is one of the numerous appointees made by the Mayor from within the inner circle of his own family and it is but a natural presumption that his presence in the combination is for the purpose of looking after the interests of Eugene.

So much for the personal end of the combine. From the surface it looks as if the consolidation of interests could mean nothing but the welfare of the Republican party, and a coalition that will be invincible at the next election. But there is too much at stake for the corporations to permit of the belief that the league is not the result of long and serious thought on the part of those whose business it has always been to manipulate politics
for the benefit of their employers.
With eighteen complainant supervisors and a mayor who will play into their hand for the next two years, it can be such an intrenchment in the way of long-time franchisees that neither street railway nor water company will have anything to fear from adverse legislation until such time as a new generation of stockholders will be in control. And without doubt, this is the low down of it. It is the fight of the public utility corporations for control of municipal affairs that has brought forth the United Republican League.

HUNTINGTON-HARRIMAN FEAT-
TURE.

There is another feature to the present combination, but it is being kept religiously in the background by those who are interested in the matter of using the people to further their own ends. This is the fight of the Harriman interests on H. E. Huntington. All the war between these people is not centered in the southern part of the State.
Huntington is possessed of a goodly portion of the stock of the Geary Street Railroad, and it is through this road that the Harriman interests are now attempting to retaliate for the trouble in the south. It has been but a few months since the people voted on the subject of municipal ownership of the Geary street property and it was supposed that the matter was settled for

The Hamburger Store

Respected Lady Resents Insult.

Boycotter Biddle and his compatriots, Rogers and Hay, given to understand they cannot send insulting letters to a woman. None but such despicable creatures as this trio would.

Mr. L. D. Biddle, 221 Wilson Block, City.

Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of a letter signed by you. That you should imagine for an instant that you could influence a woman, who loves justice and truth, to aid and abet you in your attempt to defame a great and honorable firm, whose only offense has been that it refuses to be your catspaw, proves conclusively that you have a strange conception of what the world knows as manhood.

In my opinion your efforts during the past year to coerce the Hamburger establishment into submission to your dictates, have been nothing short of criminal, and if there is no law by which such venomous designs can be throttled, then it is high time, to my thinking, that the statutes were amended in that respect. That you should have dared to affront me with an invitation to become a participant in such proceedings is altogether too unpardonable for me to pass by in silence, and I desire to most emphatically state to you that you have erred in approaching me with such a proposition.

It has been my pleasure to have been a patron of the Hamburger store for many years past, and I can assure you, therefore, from my own close, personal observation and knowledge, that those employed there have no need nor desire to call upon you to shed crocodile tears over their condition. I admire and respect the management of the Hamburger store for their fair and square dealings, and, therefore, will hand them your letter and my reply thereto.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Edith Emanuel.
